Hey, kids—Since we print your name, city, and state, please include them on your letters.

Dear Catbreathmeister,

I think I am your #1 fan in Australia. Most of my friends think I'm obsessed with you but who cares.

I have plenty of ALF paraphernalia such as t-shirts, a poster, mug and bowl, mask, etc. But I only have issues #22, #23, and #24 of this fantastic comic. Please help me get as many back issues as possible because I never knew it existed until recently and I have exhausted all avenues in Melbourne.

You might also tell me what happens after Kate announces she is pregnant as this is as far as the episodes go that have been shown in Melbourne. I assume she has a boy called Eric (from reading the above—mentioned issues).

Patrick Leverett
Melbourne, Australia

P.S. I'm a 23 year-old accountant.
P.P.S. I would love to show my friends my name in an ALF magazine.

Thanks for writing, Patrick. We love hearing from ALF's Australian friends! You're the first Australian accountant we know of who's formed such a bond with ALF. (There are probably others, but will they admit it?) Are you by any chance as expert with wernicks as you are with dollars? The IRS (Intergalactic Revenue Service) has been after our fur-eign alien recently.

By the way, to order back issues you can look in regular Marvel comics. Many of the companies who sell them advertise there.

Dear ALF,

I'm a refugee in Germany and I want to come to America.

I watch your TV show but it is a few days that our TV is out of order and I cannot watch your program.

ALF, would you please sent me one of your pictures?

Karine Joakim
West Germany

We're glad you wrote, Karine! It seems that ALF really is a globe trotter. You ask for a picture of ALF. Fortunately, you can have lots of terrific pictures of ALF, close-ups, candids, action shots in every single issue of ALF!

We wish you good luck on your immigration and suggest you take a route other than the Port of Tanner family garage roof. It is not a soft landing!

Dear Alfmeister,

Hey, here's your biggest fan writing you again from Christmas, Florida. The one who was going to special deliver our neighbor's cougar to you?!

Anyway I just want to say that your issue #27 of the Honeyspooners was totally great!

When are you going to introduce us to ALF meets Abbott and Catstello? HAHAHA! Gotta question, ALF. You enjoy music, right? What was your favorite Melmac rock star group on Melmac? I enjoy White Lion but you can't eat this cat because it's a music group and not a cat.

Kathi Lorne
Christmas, FL

You underestimate ALF, Kathi. Did anyone ever say that music groups were not on his very eclectic diet?

To answer your question though, one of ALF's favorites was Twisted Siamese—but they didn't last that long, they were just a flash in the frying pan! HA! HA! He kills us all (with his breath)!

Dear Alfster,

I am a ten-year-old mammal (boy). I am your BIGGEST FAN!!! I have over 500 ALF cards, but I only have five comic books of yours. I wish I had more. Do you know how I can get all the comic books that have been out? I really need your help!

My favorite story was "Race Tracks of My Tears." "OLLY OLLY OXEN FREE! I claim dibs on the Tanner TV!!! HA! I Kill Me!"

I would like to see ALF in a story about selling the house. And please write back, I need girl advice!!

Gabriel De Loach
Sussex, NJ

If you read our first letter and answer, Gabriel, then you know where to find those back issues you'd like.

Also, ALF has some simple advice about girls. Stick with Earth girls. There aren't enough Melmacian women to go around.

Dear ALF,

Komusta Ka? (Filipino for 'How are you doing?') I am doing quite fine. I am your biggest fan from north of the border (Canada, okay?). I have every single ALF comic there is, including annuals and magazines. I hardly ever watch your show. But when I do, I tape it. I have a few questions for you, ALF:

1) How many languages can you speak?
2) How is the best way to cook cat?
3) Which planet do you like better—Earth or Melmac?

Keep up the good work, ALF, and I will be looking forward for your next adventure.

Andrew Cabilan
Ontario, Canada

Good questions, Andrew. Here are a few answers. We believe they're in the right order. 1) Do dead languages count? Do computer languages count? One thing is certain—dead computers don't count. 2) When they're not looking. 3) Fortunately, ALF adapts to his surroundings, so he likes Earth. (Or is it that his surroundings adapt to him?)

Dear ALF,

Hi. I hope you like the letter and picture. My name is Oryanna Corsey. (I thank my mother for giving me a fun name to play with.) I'm 19 and another one of your fans. I have all of your comic books and never miss a show.

I initially wanted to draw a picture of you, but you probably have enough of those. So I sent you a picture of me and the "gang."

I'm in the center. The drooling retriever is my dog, Toby. On his head is one of our cats, B.K. And the one on my arm is her stepsister, Augie (guess where I got that idea?).

Augie was raised by a golden retriever and thinks she's a dog. Imagine . . . a cat that eats Alpo and drinks out of the toilet! She needs therapy.

Oryanna Corsey
Sicklerville, NJ

Loved your picture, Oryanna (and your name). Does Augie bark? If so, she may be the missing link between cats and dogs. In which case she is not only a fantastic scientific discovery, but a gourmet delicacy as well.

Dear ALF,

I really like you Can you come to my house? I have one of your comics. My sister has two. And I have your sheets.

ALF could stand for Adorable Little Fuzzball! Ha! I might buy a cat and send it to you. But it might eat my bird and my dog might eat the cat before you eat the cat!

Corey McDonald
Adak, AL
Age 7

Thanks for your ALL, Corey! (Adorable Little Letter, that is!)

Dear Editors,

The ALF comic book is really a very enjoyable title. Issue #27 is now my favorite. "The Honeyspooners" was hilarious. One scene I relished was on page 17, panel 6, where ALF makes his entrance onto the set, only to have the audience cut their applause short because they have no idea of his identity. I guess ALF would be considered an unknown compared to Melmackie Gleason. ALF is great. Keep 'em coming.

STAR SIGNALS

LOOK! Up in the sky! Is it a giant flying pizza? Is it Santa Claus taking a summer joy ride? Is it the Hubble telescope probing the ends of the universe?! NO! It's Mighty Mouse —one Identified Flying Object you won't want to miss!

But you don't have to strain your neck searching the skies for our beloved super hero. Just check out your favorite newsstand or comic book store in August! Here he comes to save the day! Mighty Mouse has come out of retirement to once again defend Mouseville and mice everywhere—this time in the pages of STAR Comics' very own MIGHTY MOUSE comic book!

You'll see your old favorites, like Mike, Pearl, Scrappy, and that villainous villain, Oilcan Harry! And you'll meet some new favorites, too!

MIGHTY MOUSE #1, "The Dark Might Returns", is a hilarious takeoff on one of the most famous comic book stories of our time! You'll recognize the cover, as it practically jumps off the stand. MIGHTY MOUSE #1 is a spectacular spoof, but it's also a stupendous story of cats, mice and redemption in the super STAR style! Watch for it—on sale next month!

Keep reading for sneak previews of the adventures of HEATHCLIFF, ALF, CAMP CANDY, and COUNT DUCKULA. They're waiting for you at newsstands and comic book stores everywhere! (Okay, they're harder to find in Antarctica and the Sahara.)

• Once again, ALF is playing games. And once again, the entire Tanner family is involved, this time when their home becomes a giant gameboard. Can anyone win when ALF is in charge? Find out in ALF #33's winning story, "Luncheons & Flagons"!

• Step right up, folks, to see the funniest beauty pageant of the century—at CAMP CANDY! Expect the unexpected from John Candy and his gang in CAMP CANDY #5, "Beauty and the Boast"!

• You won't recognize Count Duckula when you see him—Nanny and Igor sure didn't! Contaminated vegetables turn our vegetarian vampire into a . . .a . . .well, we can't describe it. You'll just have to get COUNT DUCKULA, unlucky #13!

• Did you know that Westfinster's honor was at risk? You'll discover why in HEATHCLIFF #51, "Animal Olympics." You'll also find out how the mischievous Heathcliff saves the day—just when it looks like he'll ruin it!

If you like what STAR has on the newsstand now, you'll love what's coming next—BARBIE and BARBIE FASHION! Barbie will keep you busy with fun activities and exciting adventures with her friends. BARBIE #1 and BARBIE FASHION #1 are coming your way this September!

In the meantime, be the first one on your block with a copy of MIGHTY MOUSE #1!
